“ My dear Aunt Shirley and all of our extended Henry Clan have lost one hell of a good man in Uncle Phillip--tough as nails, compassionate as a saint, a mentor to many, a man of integrity to all, and cut of the same cloth as our own dear Reggie with whom he has now been reunited. We love all of you, and while we often think first of all of the women in Phillip's inner circle, we can't help wanting to send out a special pray of support to those often underrepresented men in Phillip's inner life--they have lost a most rare and special kind of friend.Blessings upon all of you,

“ Dont have any idea were to start. I have so many memories of a real example of a man that i looked up to dearly. uncle Phillip trully shape my life and helped encourage me to grow up and stand for what is the right way to live. He was the perfect mixture of strength and compassion. NO BODY pushed him around, and he was always ready to help anyone in need! sounds a lot like my father,(Phillips little brother) The Henry men could be pretty tough at times but you couldnt ask for any bettor mentors for a young boy to follow.The world is greatly lacking in true men like this! unclodaddy your memory will go on forever with me. I am looking forward to seeing you again someday in heaven.Tell Marchie And Poppie high, Love Buck Henry P.S. at least we dont have to put up hay anymore!
